

Announcing SAJES 2nd Annual On The Same Page™

Community-wide Jewish Book Read

Joy Comes in the Morning

Read: Sept. 23-Oct. 21; Events: Oct. 21-Dec. 3

Jonathan Rosen

Author of The Talmud and the Internet and Eve's Apple

"To enter Jonathan Rosen's mind is to feel the meaning of civilization."

-Cynthia Ozick

Jonathan Rosen derives the title and theme of his inspiring second novel from the Book of Psalms and turns his eye to the very nature of hope and love.

Meet Henry Friedman, victimized by a debilitating and humiliating stroke; Rabbi Deborah Green, whose strength and compassion belie her own crumbling faith; and Lev Friedman, a science writer searching for truth in the margins between science and religion. Rosen makes us wonder what will happen next to these and other characters as they struggle – with or without religion – to order their worlds and the interplay between each probes questions of faith, family and love.

Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning - Psalm 30

REGISTER YOUR COMMUNITY TODAY AND PARTICIPATE WITH HUNDREDS OF OTHERS ON LONG ISLAND!

- Promote the read and project within your institution
- Reach out to members of your community via participation in the read
- Use SAJES Educational Guide to help plan events and discussions that will engage affiliated and non-affiliated members of your community
- Promote and attend other special events in your area

Themes to study with your community...

JOY,
JEWISH JOURNEYS,
SPIRITUAL
HEALTH and HEALING, SCIENCE and RELIGION,
RITUAL,
PSALMS

For information on how you can participate in the next SAJES OTSP read...

Contact Sharlee Calderone, scalderone@sajes.org, call SAJES at 631-462-8600, or visit www.otsp.org.

sajes

OTSP is offered in cooperation with BJE of Greater NY-Brooklyn/Queens Center

SAJES, 777 Larkfield Rd., Suite 118, Commack, NY 11742

J-Learn
for learning's sake

A beneficiary agency of
UJA/Federation
of New York